RULING ON ENTITLEMENT¹

On December 2, 2020, Stephanie Banks and Bradley Banks filed a petition for compensation under the National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program, 42 U.S.C. §300aa-10, *et seq.*² (the “Vaccine Act”), on behalf of their minor child, B.B. Petitioners allege that B.B. suffered intussusception, which meets the Table definition, after receiving a second rotavirus vaccine on July 10, 2019. Petition at ¶¶ 5, 36. In the alternative, they allege that the vaccine caused B.B.’s intussusception. Id. at ¶¶ 36, 38. Petitioners further allege that B.B. suffered the residual effects of intussusception for more than six months and that neither they nor any other party has filed a civil action or received compensation

If, upon review, I agree that the identified material fits within this definition, I will redact such material from public access.

for B.B.'s intussusception, alleged as vaccine caused. Id. at ¶¶ 37, 40-41. The case was assigned to the Special Processing Unit of the Office of Special Masters.

On May 10, 2021, Respondent filed his Rule 4(c) report in which he concedes that Petitioners are entitled to compensation in this case. Respondent's Rule 4(c) Report at 1. Specifically, Respondent states that "[i]t is [his] position that [P]etitioner has satisfied the criteria set forth in the Vaccine Injury Table ("Table") and the Qualifications and Aids to Interpretation for a Rotavirus/Intussusception Table injury." Id. at 6. Respondent adds that "based on the record as it now stands, [P]etitioner has satisfied all legal prerequisites for compensation under the Act." Id.

In view of Respondent's position and the evidence of record, I find that Petitioners are entitled to compensation.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
